

Brighter Days

Jimmy Wayne

So the telephone keeps on ringing
That don't mean there's nobody there
If you want to just go on dreaming
When you wake up I'll be waiting here

So what's the story, morning glory?
Don't let some stranger go and ruin your week
It's not that bad, you already have
More love than you'll ever need

Sooner or later the cloud's gonna break
Sun's gonna shine down on me and you
Don't worry about the thunder, we'll just run for cover
And stay there until it's through

So come on, hide away, as long as it takes
Just hold on, hold on, hold on
Keep holding on, and on, and on
For brighter days

It's the sign of the change of the season
When birds, they start to flying away
Think it's time you and I should be leaving
So hurry, let's get out of the rain

Don't be crying, sweet dandelion
Just let the wind take you wherever it blows
And don't be scared I'll be waiting there
No matter how far you go

Sooner or later the cloud's gonna break
Sun's gonna shine down on me and you
Don't worry about the thunder, we'll just run for cover
And stay there until it's through

So come on, hide away, as long as it takes
Just hold on, hold on, hold on
Keep holding on, and on, and on
For brighter days

Sooner or later the cloud's gonna break
Sun's gonna shine down on me and you
Don't worry about the thunder, we'll just run for cover
And stay there until it's through

So come on, hide away, as long as it takes
Just hold on, hold on, hold on
Keep holding on, and on, and on
For brighter days, brighter days
