

Broken

Jin

I came into this world, broken
Believe this, hard to conceive sin in the fetus
But that's me, so I'm picking up the pieces, piece it back together
Find the peace when I picture Jesus.
Yes, don't wanna lose Him from my sight,
can't escape the darkness unless I find the source of light
I'm talking about the source of life that you provide me
Apart from you, there is not a single good thing inside me
Whoever said, death is the end and that's just a lie
We were created for eternity not just to die
Hate to admit it, but no longer am I scared
Yes I'm broken, not beyond repair
God I know you're there
(God I know you're there)
God I know you're there
(God I know you're there)

Bigger than the world
Larger than our fears
Hope for every people
You wipe away our tears
God of all the nations
Calling out my name
Beautiful and broken
You love me just the same

I bet at times you feel hopeless
Maybe you should think about what hope is
By definition, the key to hope is trust
I looked it up
Listen, having hope is a must
But more importantly,
I pray the Lord will leave you touched
My faith is all I have,
In fact I've never prayed this much
Feeling my heart get crashed
When I see the world distressing
Can't even watch the news no more
It is too depressing
The hatin' and the stealin'
The rapin' and the killin'
Our Father looking down
Just aching for His children
Quite the contrary
If you think He doesn't care
Yes we are broken, not beyond repair
God we know you're there
(God I know you're there)
God we know you're there
(God I know you're there)

Bigger than the world
God of all the nations

Beautiful and broken

Heal broken hands and broken feet
Can heal the blind and save the weak
Then let my life and all I seek
Stay broken, better broken

Heal broken hands and broken feet
Then let my life and all I seek

Bigger than the world
God of all the nations
Calling out my name
Beautiful and broken
You love me just the same

Thank you Lord

Thank you Lord
(Yeah you love me, yeah you love me)
And we love you too
