

That Boy

JJ Grey & Mofro

Everybody's looking
You're the talk all over town
When y'all walk the street
He's got a smile you got a frown

Too many folks talking about what you ought to do
And not what you gonna do
Still ain't right for that man to get on top of you
That boy don't love, he's afraid of you

We heard he slapped you around
And I know that shit ain't right
One minute y'all get along
And then the next you fuss and fight

Sugar wouldn't melt in his mouth according to you
Next day we see you girl you all black and blue
That boy don't love, he's afraid of you
Now your moments come

You've got to break out on your own
Girl you can't live in fear
Inside that place you call your home
It's time to turn him out turn him loose just walk away
He's just a mama's boy let him cry girl, let him cry

That boy don't love, he's afraid of you
That boy don't love, he's afraid of you
