

The Devil You Know

JJ Grey & Mofro

Well don't try to change the subject again
Hide and seek with yourself it ain't a game you can win
If ya gonna be dumb boy you got to be tough

If we changed up places you'd roll like a dime
Yeah you hurt yeah you hurt yeah you know it ain't right
I ain't going I ain't going to front you this time... because you

You turned on me for the devil you know
You turned on me for the devil you know

Well you can't get free without some blood sweat and tears
That voice in your head has got you all balled up in fear
Time to, to pack your bags and tell yourself goodbye

Habit got you changed mind body and soul
And you'll never feel free until you learn to let go of that
That bag full of bricks you been dragging around

You turned on me for the devil you know
You turned on me for the devil you know
