

Tic Tac Toe

JJ Grey & Mofro

Spending mama and daddy's money
In college far from home
Tending other people's business
While you leave your own alone

Tell me, who are you afraid of
Tell me, who scares you the most?
Why do you quicken past your reflection?
Why do you look like you've seen a ghost?

It's like playing tic tac toe with yourself
It's like holding Heaven and Hell in the palm of your hand
How many ghosts haunt the halls of your memory?
It's like playing tic tac toe with yourself

Trying to stamp out all the evil
'Til you no longer feel the good
Standing frail against the world
Now a victim once Robin Hood

Tell me, who are you afraid of
Tell me, who scares you the most
Why do you quicken past your reflection
Why do you look like you've seen a ghost

It's like playing tic tac toe with yourself
It's like holding Heaven and Hell in the palm of your hand
How many ghosts haunt the halls of your memory?
It's like playing tic tac toe with yourself
Are you going to do it by yourself baby?
Are you going to do it by yourself now?
Are you going to live a lie?
