

Anything

JJ Heller

I spent my life building a life for me
Tidy and safe
Everything in its place
The way it should be

Nothing was wrong
But something just was not right
Didn't know it was dark in that room in my heart
'Till you turned on the light
And out of thin air suddenly you were there
What a wonderful sight

I'd give up anything for you
But I would not give you up for anything

I never knew how beautiful life could be
You rewrote the rules and I was a fool 'til you made me see
Holding your hand taught me to open mine
Let go of my plans, all my demands, and leave them behind
Now whatever I do is tethered to you
And I don't even mind

I'd give up anything for you
But I would not give you up for anything

They could offer me gold
They could offer me fame
I could never grow old
Never feel any pain
I could travel the world and sail every sea
But none of it matters without you with me

I'd give up anything for you
But I would not give you up for anything
I'd give up anything for you
But I would not give you up for anything

I would not give you up for anything
