

Bridges

JJ Heller

One million faces, I'll never know
I watch them pass by my window
Sometimes I get lonely, even in a crowd
We're all desperate strangers reaching out

So many islands in the ocean
But we don't need to be alone

Come sit beside me
Tell me your story
Together we'll tear down our fences
And turn them into bridges
And turn them into bridges

Let's close the distance between you and me
Trade in our fear for curiosity
We are not so different, I want to know your name
Show me your broken heart and I'll do the same

Will you join me on the journey?
We can walk each other home

Come sit beside me
Tell me your story
Together we'll tear down our fences
And turn them into bridges
And turn them into bridges

Come sit beside me
Tell me your story
Together we'll tear down our fences
And turn them into bridges
And turn them into bridges...

And turn them into bridges
And turn them into bridges
