

Fully Known

JJ Heller

Have you ever felt lost
Driving down the same road every day?
And you're caught in traffic
But everyone feels a thousand miles away
Does anyone see you?
Does anyone care?
Does anyone know your name?

You are fully known
By the Author of space and time
He won't let you go
And you cannot change His mind
No, you cannot change His mind

Do you ever think back
To all the things you wish you never did?
And you never lose track
An endless loop repeating in your head
Could anyone love you?
If anyone knew
Who you really are?

You are fully known
By the Author of space and time
He won't let you go
And you cannot change His mind
No, you cannot change His mind

No matter how far you are
No matter how dark your past
His arms are always open
There is a home for the broken
All of the words He's spoken are true
