

Here For You

JJ Heller

If you were born in the French Riviera
Manilla
Mogadishu
Mexico
If you were born the day after tomorrow
Or if you lived a hundred years ago

I'd never know you
You'd never know me
I don't want to think about it

I want to thank my lucky stars
I'm here with you now
Right where you are
I believe the good Lord knew
That you would be here
And I would be here for you

You're a treasure
You are one in a million
You're a living, breathing miracle
We beat the odds when we found one another
It's nearly mathematically impossible

But I ran into you
You ran into me
I smile when I think about it

I want to thank my lucky stars
I'm here with you now
Right where you are
I believe the good Lord knew
That you would be here
And I would be here for you

Any alternate universe
Would have to be so much worse
Without you
Without me
We were meant to be together

I want to thank my lucky stars
I'm here with you now
Right where you are
Feels like a dream or déjà vu
I keep pinching myself to see if it's true
I believe the good Lord knew
That you would be here
And I would be here for you
I will be here for you