

Today

JJ Heller

This was the year the glue gave out
When everything solid became a cloud
Uncertainty swirled around like dust
But home was a safe place for us

When I look in your eyes
All I see is light
And the darkness around us gets smaller

Today
I am thankful for you
Today
I am thankful for you

Are we through this valley or only halfway?
Can't tell if the sky's turning blue or more gray
Don't know what the future has coming our way
But today
I am thankful for you

You color the edges of all we've been through Everything beautiful comes into view
I see what the headlines could never report
You are what's good in the world

When I look in your eyes
All I see is light
And the darkness around us gets smaller

Today
I am thankful for you
Today
I am thankful for you

Are we through this valley or only halfway?
Can't tell if the sky's turning blue or more gray
Don't know what the future has coming our way
But today
I am thankful for you

Hand in hand
Side by side
Gratitude will be our guide
Heaven knows what we might find tomorrow

But today I am thankful for you
Today
I am thankful for you

Oh, today
I am thankful for you
Today
I am thankful for you

Are we through this valley or only halfway
Can't tell if the sky's turning blue or more gray
Don't know what the future has coming our way

But today
I am thankful for you
Today
I am thankful for you