

Back To Forgetting

jj

Free falling
Back into it
Slipped on a message after dark
I know better
I swear I do

You said it wouldn't
Mean a thing
Thought it could never go this far
I'm untethered
I'm so untrue

But we know how this ends: to the bar, to the bed
And suddenly we're on and off again like we did it back then
That same old game but in present tense
Wishing we could just go back to forgetting it happened at all
So don't let it happen no more
To the bar, to the bed
Aah, let's just go back to forgetting it happened at all

Tear drops stain these Broken memories
The cold and empty nights
(Forgetting it happened at all)
But I can't seem to Draw a line through
The faded echoes of your lullaby

We know this ends: to the bar, to the bed
And suddenly we're on and off again like we did it back then
That same old game but in present tense
Wishing we could just go back to forgetting it happened at all
So don't let it happen no more
To the bar, to the bed
Aah, let's just go back to forgetting it happened at all

Forgetting it happened at all
Forgetting it happened at all

But we know how this ends: to the bar, to the bed
And suddenly we're on and off again like we did it back then
That same old game but in present tense
Wishing we could just go back to forgetting it happened at all
