

The dreams of dying mothers
I awoke, my insides shuddered
The grey coats of the infantry
Victims looking for sympathy
And splash of October swimmers
The cheers of Helsinki winners
My barbed bones of futility
Leaking marrow of ability

And I don't need anyone
You don't need anyone
I want to be a happy boy
This means that you must employ my lies
When I want you
I don't need anyone
I want to be a happy boy
This means that you must employ my lies

And I don't need anyone
You don't need anyone
I want to be a happy boy
This means that you must employ my lies
When I want you

And I don't need anyone
And I don't need anyone
And I don't need anyone
