

Beginner

JKT48

In your position, set!

All the things that you know, everything that you've done
It is ancient history that weighs down heavily
Even the wind will go just as soon as it blows
Vanishing with no trace leaving just a blank space

So let's go and find ourselves a new way
Take that old map and throw it far away
Then that sad eyes will rise above and then glow
And then turn into zero

Go and ask ourselves if we still have dreams?
And is there a future for us to believe?
Move forward and have no fear
Don't separate white and black
There's no need for us to hold back!
And now go and ask ourselves if we still have dreams?
You must be like a child so young and green!
It is time for you to find strength
To break all those chains that bind

Change change change change
Change your mind!
Change change your mind!
No need to know all when you are a BEGINNER!

Prior endeavors ended up in failure
Embarassing torment led the way to trauma
Due to desire to suffer no further
People who are mature
They become much wiser

Trying new things is full of uncertainty
What's the point of choosing a way
Calculating things to avoid
All risk and just play it safe

Is this how living is supposed to go?
Do you really still want to live tomorrow?
Pretending to understand, pretending that you know all
But living without any dreams!
And is this how living is supposed to go?
Do you not think that your life is going to waste?
You must find that vibration and feel it inside your chest

Stand up! Together!
Remember when we are born that everyone's a beginner!
Stand up! Right away!
At first you might never ever get it right the way you want!
Stand up! Together!
It's alright to do it over, once again BEGINNER!
Stand up! Right away!
Do it again, do it again, you will make it in the end!
Tear up and throw out that old page from long ago
Yeah come on let's go again
We can be reborn all the time (Yeahh...)

Go and ask ourselves if we still have dreams?
And is there a future for us to believe?
Move forward and have no fear
Don't separate white and black
There's no need for us to hold back!
And now go and ask ourselves if we still have dreams?
You must be like a child so young and green!
It is time for you to find strength
To break all those chains that bind

We can't do anything, we cannot succeed
You know why that is? It is because we are still young
We can't do anything, can't do it instantly
And that is why we have opportunity on our side!
Rain will go away! Wind will go away!
And the dawn of a new light will begin shining its rays!
The time has now arrived
And now you have been reborn as a BEGINNER!