

Change

JME

Change

People are scared of what they don't know

The simple fear of the unknown

We're all scared of what we don't know

Change

People are scared of what they don't know

The simple fear of the unknown

We're all scared of what we don't know

Remember when this genre got its name

We were like, "Lame, that name's bait

Fuck that change, sounds like some toilet cleaner mate"

But now we're like, "Wait, iTunes better fix up them categories fam

Don't ramp or Google Play"

Put in the hours night and day

Blood, sweat and tears and man still hate

Now we got UK Drill, hold tight my dons from Brixton Hill, yeah

Man had to rep that still, push that genre to the top of the bill

Man have to embrace change, boys in the hood getting legal wage

Selling out shows, shit that we couldn't dream of back then when we were the ir age

Change

People are scared of what they don't know

The simple fear of the unknown

We're all scared of what we don't know

Change

People are scared of what they don't know

The simple fear of the unknown

We're all scared of what we don't know

Fam, remember when digital download first started popping?

Dad was baffed

CD and vinyl use was stopping

Record shops started refusing stocking

When man heard the news it was shocking

Didn't feel the same

Whenever man had to announce that a new tune's dropping

Lucky man got the YouTube rocking

Talk of the devil, now we got streams

Came and killed the radios dreams

Man can top the chart with just memes

Good, what does the chart even mean?

History repeats itself

It will change again like it all changed before

Music is the reason I make music

I am the person that I make it for

Change

People are scared of what they don't know

The simple fear of the unknown

We're all scared of what we don't know

Change

People are scared of what they don't know

The simple fear of the unknown

We're all scared of what we don't know