

Right Here

Joakim Lundell

We always meet up on the weekends, weekends
You say I'm distant on the weekdays, weekdays
But I got shit to do I'm sorry, sorry
I'd rather be with you
I'd rather be with you

I always wanna wake up with you close
I'm never gonna break up or let go
You think that I'm just playing, but I don't
No, I won't ever do that

You should know that I am right here, right here
I'm always gonna be there, be there
You should know that I am right here, right here
We don't have to be alone
We don't have to be alone
We don't have to be alone
Alone, have to be alone

Tell me what do you think I'm doing, doing
You can just ask me where I'm going, going
There's just no need for you to worry, worry
I'd rather be with you
I'd rather be you

I always wanna wake up with you close
I'm never gonna break up or let go
You think that I'm just playing, but I don't
No, I won't ever do that

You should know that I am right here, right here
I'm always gonna be there, be there
You should know that I am right here. right here
We don't have to be alone

You should know that I am right here, right here
I'm always gonna be there, be there
You should know that I am right here, right here
We don't have to be alone

We don't have to be alone
We don't have to be alone
We don't have to be alone
We don't have to be alone
Alone, have to be alone
