

Steal Across The Border

Joan Baez

Kneeling in the moonlight, gazing on the shore
The girl with the blue bouquet
What if you got it, what you're praying for?
Careful what you pray

You turn around, the old way is gone
You wonder how you will carry on
All my pride I will lay aside
I will steal across the border for you

Lying in the dusty shadows of your bed
Dreaming on a clear blue sky
Paying for something that you never even did
Victim of a time gone by

You turn around, everything has changed
Familiar scenes have been rearranged
All my life I will work and strive
I will steal across the border for you

All my pride I will lay aside
I will steal across the border for you
