

I'll Take The Blame

Joe Bonamassa

Yeah, that's right
She's the one
I turned to her when you turned away
Yeah, she's the one I call
When there's nothing left to say
She's the one I took for granted
And now, I'll take the blame

Someone told you I was with her
Before we were really through
You were running with my best friend
What am I supposed to do?

Yeah, that's right
She's the one
I turned to her when you turned away
No more taking her for granted
And now, I'll take the blame
I'll take the blame

Oh, people love to tell their stories
That's never gonna change
Yeah, she's the one I call

Yeah, that's right
She's the one
I turned to her when you turned away
No more taking her for granted
And now, I'll take the blame
I'll take the blame

No more taking her for granted
And I'll take the blame
I'll take the blame

No more taking her for granted
And I'll take the blame
I'll take the blame
