Memory Foam

Joe Brooks

Push me down deep in your memory foam
Drown me so I cannot breathe alone
Take me deeper than I've ever known
And then just let me go

Blow me up and then tie my tongue
Fill my chest with your helium
Take me higher than I've ever flown
And then just let me go

Take me higher, take me higher
Than I've ever known
And then just let me go
And then just let me go

We were so good when it was good
We were so good when it was good

Push me down and I go under
Cast your spell over and over
But I want you to know
I want you to know

That we were so good when it was good
We were so good when it was good

Push me down and I go under
Cast your spell over and over
But I want you to know
That I'm deep in your memory

Push me down deep in your memory foam
Legs and arms and flesh and bones
Take me higher than I've ever known
And then you let me go
