Ohio Air Show Plane Crash

Joe Henry

Just before the crash
I was at the bridge
I remember now, somebody shouting
But I couldn't hear too well

And when it went into a dive
We all came off our feet
And just like he meant to nose into the lake
He did so, perfectly

Just before the crash
I was watching you

Thinking how time hasn't changed
Even half what it promised to
You laughed and you turned
What I almost didn't see

When I felt him hit the bridge
At first I thought it was me
But I'll always keep you in my dreams
I'll always keep you in my dreams

My legs were hanging off the rail
And I was feeling brave
Pretending I might follow Joe
Talking trash day

I remember now somebody shouting
I can hear it too
Sometimes the voice it calls me back
And sometimes It sounds like you

But I'll always keep you in my dreams
I'll always keep you in my dreams
I'll always keep you
Keep you in my dreams, I'll always
