

Hit The Switch

Joe Lynn Turner

I'm getting tired of the same old stuff
Working so hard but it never seems to be enough
Put in my time doing 9 to 5
Making a living, but I really don't feel alive

I need a little distraction
Guess I could use a fix
I'm looking for satisfaction
When it all gets too much and life's a bitch
Hit the switch, turn it on and get your kicks
Hit the switch

People all talking, up in my face
Sometimes it's hard to be a part of the human race
Polish your dreams and they throw it away
Chasing tomorrow but they're losing today

That's when I get that feeling
I gotta scratch that itch
I put my head though the ceiling
When it gets too much and life's a bitch
Hit the switch
