Joe Lynn Turner

Dead dog tired from a long hard day
I was ready to sleep but that little girl was Ready to play
I said I'm sorry honey, I don't fit in your plans
She gave me that look and took matters into
Her own hands

I was feeling run down tonight
But your skirt is high and your shirt is so tight
And those suicide heels just gave me a kick and a shove
Jump start my love

Moving in closer, I was feeling the heat
She was cooking up something hot sticky and sweet
She had me going, got me in the mood
I'm a resurrected man with a brand new attitude

She took me to heaven when she gave me a kiss
I didn't stand a chance, too hard to resist
She must have been an angel
Tat was sent down from above
Jump start my love
