Gloria

Joe McElderry

Inside her heart she's still the girl
Who doesn't have a single care in the world
Just now and then she knows what might have been
If only life were lived in dreams

In bed alone, closing her eyes
She imagines that He's there by her side
And all the years of blessings love once knew
Remembering helps upon her through

Gloria, Gloria
Can't find an angel who wouldn't give her wings for Gloria

Up with the sun, so much to do
Her children sleep another hour or two
The table's ready when they come downstairs
They'll never miss what isn't there

Gloria, Gloria
Can't find a demon who wouldn't hide her sins for Gloria
'Cause I know
Lovely as her name
Oh, understand her
She thinks she's to blame

Uh uh uh
Can't find an angel who wouldn't give her wings for Gloria

Another day she gives her all
A mother stumbles, but she won't ever fall
And when you need to know that one still cares
Look to your heart, she's always there!

Gloria, Gloria
Can't find an angel who wouldn't give her wings for Gloria
Gloria
