

I Am an Army

Joe McElderry

I came this far with armoured heart
And my head held high
Grenades falling from the sky
And you beat your drum
Like a firing gun
But I hear no sound
The love beat out too loud

You know it all, you think it's right
You love the hurt, you want the fight
You try, but I never feel you 'cos

You, you try to break me, you try to shake me
But I am an army
You, you try to hate me, but it only makes me
'Cos I am an army

Like an arrow sharp, when it leaves the bow
You will never know where I'm gonna go

I land in time, this beat is mine
I'll walk on fire across the line
I know I'll run through your wild storm 'cos

You, you try to break me, you try to shake me
But I am an army
You, you try to hate me, but it only makes me
'Cos I am an army (marching for the love)
(Our hearts are one)

Kicking down these doors
I have their hands against my back
Holding me, pushing me, pulling me
Lifting me
They guide me through when...

You, you try to break me, you try to shake me
But I am an army (marching by my side
We are the love our hearts are tied)
You, you try to take me, but you only wake me
And I am an army
You, you try to rule me, but you only fuel me
'Cos I am an army
You, you wanna hate me, but it only makes me
'Cos I am an army
