You're in the wrong place At the right time You got the wrong face But all the right lines Now I'm all out of phase Its about a state of my mind You got me sky high Like rockets in flight now Now something in my head Just don't feel right Don't you go and say it Don't you go and cross this line Don't say I love you (say I love, say I love you) Cause that would drive me crazy When I see stop signs, I'm gonna run them down When I see red lights, I'm gonna hit the ground What you've done to me Turning my world upside down Someone wake me up Someone wake me up Your kinda lowlife Comes at a price Keeps on feeding my appetite And now you are my habit Giving me a natural high The more I keep on running away from you Just don't know what to say Don't know what to do Don't you go and say it Don't you go and cross this line Don't say I love you (say I love, Say I love you) Cause that would drive me crazy When I see stop signs, I'm gonna run them down When I see red lights, I'm gonna hit the ground What you've done to me Turning my world upside down Someone wake me up Someone wake me up When I see stop signs, I'm gonna run them down When I see red lights, I'm gonna hit the ground What you've done to me Turning my world upside down Someone wake me up Someone wake me up How could I not see You pulling me in When will I see the end begin What a fool I have been Lift me from the state I'm in

Yeah Someone wake me up Someone wake me up

When I see stop signs, I'm gonna run them down When I see red lights, I'm gonna hit the ground What you've done to me Turning my world upside down Someone wake me up Someone wake me up
