

That Diamond Ring

Joe Purdy

I was younger
And I was dumber
And a bag of summers
Where I learned to sing
And I'm sorry
About the way it ended
Well I know you needed
That diamond ring
Well you say I'm the devil
And you might be right
Between me and Loretta on a Friday night
But you can stop yelling
At me in the bad park
Where me and my friends are
Just trying to drink

'Cause I was younger
And I was stupid
But I had fun
And I learned to drink
And I'm ashamed of
Well the way I used you
But I knew you needed that diamond ring

Yeah your temper's rising
And your eyes have been crying
Hell even when your trying
You never get your way
But iI already told you dear
IIain't going back there
So you can take your cold stare
And just put it away

'Cause I was younger
Oh and I was dumber
But I had fun
And I learned to sing
And I'm sorry about the way it ended
'Cause I know you needed that diamond ring
I know you needed that diamond ring
One more time
