

Sorry

Joel Corry

I can't live without you
I know I did you wrong, I know I did you wrong
And it's my fault, I'm sorry
I can see my whole world changing 'cause of you

It's upside down, I'm lonely
Should've known better, should've known you're my best friend
Come back here, give me one more try

I can see my whole world changing
There's no need to live if I can't be with you
What I did was wrong, I'm sorry
I didn't know how much I really miss you
I can see my whole world changing
There's no need to live if I can't be with you
What I did was wrong, I'm sorry
I didn't know how much I really miss you

Last night I made a big mistake
Now I'm sittin' in my room like Brandy
Taking time to contemplate
How I've been such a fool lately

I can't live without you
I know I did you wrong, I know I did you wrong
And it's my fault, I'm sorry
I can see my whole world changing 'cause of you

It's upside down, I'm lonely
Should've known better, should've known you're my best friend
Come back here, give me one more try

I can see my whole world changing
There's no need to live if I can't be with you
What I did was wrong, I'm sorry
I didn't know how much I really miss you
I can see my whole world changing
There's no need to live if I can't be with you
What I did was wrong, I'm sorry
I didn't know how much I really miss you

Lately, we just fuss and fight
We argue about everything
That drove me to leave that night
And tell you that it's the end

I can see my whole world changing
There's no need to live if I can't be with you
What I did was wrong, I'm sorry
I didn't know how much I really miss you
I can see my whole world changing
There's no need to live if I can't be with you
