

Loverboy

Joeseef

I'm late to the party, I see you outside
I'm counting the money, can't see in this light
I need something stronger, I'm texting my guy
Don't know what to say now, I look into your eyes
I see everybody, my chest feeling tight
Their eyes saying sorry, are you alright?
I make up a story, hell yeah, I'm fine
Don't know what to say now, four drinks at a time

But I'm pretending I got this under control
Like you don't still have a part of my soul
But you will still hear me sing

Loverboy, every little thing is gonna be alright
Loverboy, just put your hands and put them in the sky
Loverboy, take another drink, we'll fade into the night
Loverboy, let's see if you believe in your own lies

Some say it's easier said than done
Write off my demons, believing in love
Though I still want you, I walk into the sun
'Cause I'm feeling better when I'm having fun

But I'm pretending I got this under control
Like you don't still have a part of my soul
But you will still hear me sing

Loverboy, every little thing is gonna be alright
Loverboy, just put your hands and put them in the sky
Loverboy, take another drink, we'll fade into the night
Loverboy, let's see if you believe in your own lies

Won't you help me out?
Think I got a problem 'cause I'm going down
Think you need to help me out, won't you help me out?
Think I got a problem 'cause I'm going down

Loverboy, every little thing is gonna be alright
Loverboy, just put your hands and put them in the sky
Loverboy, take another drink, we'll fade into the night
Loverboy, let's see if you believe in your own lies

Tell you, everything's gonna be alright
