

Different

Joey Djia

I wasn't looking for no love when I met yah
I was doing my own thing, had no pressure
You asked to be the only one so I let yah
Like I do

Then you promised me the truth right to my face
Then you went and did we wrong in the worst way
I was only tryna' put you in first place
Like I do

So why did you ask when I wasn't asking
I don't want your love if it's not everlasting

I wanted to believe
That you were different
I wanted to believe
Nothing was missing
Maybe I need

I believed all of your words, gave you my faith
Now you're asking for a chance, made a mistake
Did you think about my love back at her place?
Oh did you?

Cause you would tell me I'm unreal, I'm your treasure
Or were they just words till you found something better?
I didn't have you long but I thought you were the one
I won't forget you

So why did you ask when I wasn't asking
I don't want your love if it's not everlasting

I wanted to believe
That you were different, different
I wanted to believe
Nothing was missing
Maybe I need

Whispering love in the dark you'd hold me
How did it end up this way?
Truly believed you were the one for me
I wish that you felt the same

I wanted to believe
That you were different, different
I wanted to believe
Nothing was missing
Maybe I need

Different, different, different
Different, different, different
Different, different, different
Maybe I need
Someone different
Different, different, different
Different, different, different
Different, different, different