

Dancing In The Morning

Joey Graceffa

I got my heart on the battlefield
Ready to conquer
Yet I'm diving right in
But I'm walking on water

Yeah, I fell into the silent town
Now I'm drifting away
But I'm here with you now

While the sun's going down
On the dead end street
You got my world spinning on repeat

I know the night has only just begun
Ah, dancing in the morning
But I think I'm really gonna love someone
Ah, dancing in the morning
I'm gonna hold him like tomorrow never comes
And when I feel the fate of the morning sun we'll be
Ah, dancing in the morning
Ah, dancing in the morning

Cause this world is an arrow
And I need to let go
We take this too fast
So I move it in slow mo

The visions of your grace surround me now
Your gravity, it pulls me in somehow, somehow

I know the night has only just begun
Ah, dancing in the morning
But I think I'm really gonna love someone
Ah, dancing in the morning
I'm gonna hold him like tomorrow never comes
And when I feel the fate of the morning sun we'll be
Ah, dancing in the morning
When I feel the fate
Ah, dancing in the morning
We'll be
Oh we'll be

I know the night has only just begun
But I think I'm really gonna love someone
Ah, dancing in the morning
I'm gonna hold him like tomorrow never comes
And when I feel the fate of the morning sun
Ah, dancing in the morning
Ah, dancing in the morning
Ah, dancing in the morning
Ah, dancing in the morning
Ah, dancing in the morning
