

Someday

Joey McIntyre

Spending all my time
Trying to read your mind
Trying to figure out the kind of game your playing
Said I'm black and blue, getting through to you
I can't figure out which way your heart is swaying

You can take your chances, I know you're not a fool,
But from what you're telling me, she's not the one for you

No
Someday she'll be my girl
I know I will try and change the world
If it makes you my girl
When all the boys have faded, you'll be glad you waited
Someday she'll be my girl

I'm the one, who's having all the fun
Could it be you wanted more than your showing
It would be a shame, if you my fate
Come between the sweet thing we've got going

(I would give it all up for you)

I know I can't sit back, watch you disappear
When you reach for her she's a million miles from here

No
Some day she'll be my girl
And I know I will try and change the world
If it makes you my girl
When all the boys have faded, you'll be glad you waited
Someday she'll be my girl

Girl Tell me it's for real
Whatever you do don't tell how you feel
But I know if we just talk about it
You should forget about her
Noooooooooooo no no no

When all the boys have faded, you'll be glad you waited
Someday she'll be my girl

I know
I'll change the world

When all the noise has faded, you'll be glad you waited
Someday she'll be my girl

Someday she'll be my girl
My girl, my girl.....
