Guess nobody ever told you that When the day is done You are on your own There'll be no one near to care for you Catch the morning rain on your face again Then you feel the sun come shining through And when the day is done and everybody's gone There's still a ghost inside your head that's haunting And when the day is done, you're not the only one Who's hanging on to something that is lost and gone for Every party seems a fantasy Doesn't mean a lot when it's all you've got Like a movie playing endlessly Let the morning rain clear your mind again In your eyes the sun is shining through And when the day is done and everybody's gone There's still a ghost inside your head that's haunting And when the day is done, you're not the only one Who's hanging on to something that is lost and gone for What's the matter with you, would you come down .. Let it go if you wanna feel better What's the matter with you, come down .. Let it go if you wanna feel better What's the matter with you, come down .. Let it go if you wanna feel better What's the matter with you, come down .. Let go Still you haven't found the peace of mind and can you face The consequence, such a wasted chance You will know in time, you're days are through And when your day is done and everybody's gone There's still a ghost inside your head that's haunting And when your day is done, you're not the only one Who's hanging on to something that is lost and gone for good What's the matter with you, would you come down .. Let it go if you wanna feel better What's the matter with you, come down .. Let it go if you wanna feel better What's the matter with you, come down .. Let go

What's the matter with you, come down ...

What's the matter with you, come down ...

Let it go if you wanna feel better

Let it go if you wanna feel better
What's the matter with you, come down ..
Let go
What's the matter with you, come down ..
Let it go if you wanna feel better
What's the matter with you, come down ..
Let go
