

Something About You

Johan

There's something about you that scares me
Something about you I can't see
Something about you that wears me out

Ooh, I never know what I'm in
The grin on your face when you break it
The spark in your eyes when you fake it
The tone of your voice when you sing me a truth

Something about you
Drags me away from myself
You suck the life out of me
When the lights fading
You keep on playing with my mind
I can't break away from you

The grin on your face when you take it
The spark in your eyes when you fake it
The tone of your voice when you sing me a truth

Something about you
Drags me away from myself
You suck the life out of me
When the light is fading
You keep on playing with my mind
I can't break away from you

I'm moving on it's a new beginning
You're coming back but I won't let you get in How I try to get rid of this
It's so hard to give up
Would you know you'll be missing
I'm wide awake and my head is spinning
(I) close in at her and I no longer give in How I'd crave for a moment without
You've been wasting my time
There must be a life ... without you

There's something about you that scares me
Something about you I can't see
Something about you that wears me out
