

I Can't Take Another Heartache

John Anderson

Lips tell me she was lying
Eyes tell me you're not crying
Arms tell me you're not empty now

Hands say that you're not shaking
Mind hear that silence breaking
Please help me stop the pain somehow

I can't take another heartache
And I'm so afraid it's too late
I can feel the hurt it's started
I can't take another heartache

Time must you keep me waiting
House is there no escaping
Phone won't you please start ringing now

Walls don't come any closer
Door can we start all over
And close before she starts walking out

I can't take another heartache
And I'm so afraid it's too late
I can feel the hurt it's started
I can't take another heartache

I can't take another heartache
And I'm so afraid it's too late
I can feel the hurt it's started
I can't take another heartache

I can't take another heartache
And I'm so afraid it's too late
I can feel the hurt it's started...
