

It Looks Like the Party Is Over

John Anderson

Oh, it looks like the party is over
The last glass of wine has been poured
The band has stopped playing our music
Our friends aren't around anymore

There's no way to get to old feelings
All of those bridges have burned
We're just like a door that is closing
Or a page that's already been turned

I know we both did all that we could
Even after the laughter was gone
And now the hardest part isn't to come
We've got to pick up all the pieces alone

Oh, it looks like the party is over
The last glass of wine has been poured
The band has stopped playing our music
Our friends aren't around anymore

Oh, it looks like the party is over
