Fadeaway Tomorrow

John Cale

Well, they say that every dog has his day
But puppy love was never really my way
Hear your voice – am I asleep or awake?
Since you're gone

Love that's here today – fade away tomorrow
Love that's here today – fade away tomorrow

Where to go? Should I just stay here or run?
If I'd wings I'd aim them straight for the sun
Who to call? Or should I just take a walk
Little words add up to small talk

Love that's here today – fade away tomorrow
Love that's here today – fade away tomorrow

Love is fickle, love is true
You can count on memories
They linger on, love never stays

Here she comes full of white light and heat
With a walk that'd stop the cars in the street

Love that's here today – fade away tomorrow
