

OUT YOUR WINDOW

John Cale

If you jump out your window, I will break your fall
I'll hold you close and keep you calm
Wherever you decide to go
Please, please don't go
Please, please don't go
Please don't go
Please, please don't go

Don't you be jumping out, don't you be jumping out, your window
Don't you be jumping out, don't you be jumping out, your window

I came outside to meet you, in the lunch time sun
Waiting with the other screaming maniacs there
Then I saw a silhouette up on the roof
And I ran to climb the stairwell up to you

Come on down, the water's warm
I'll sail away with you
Come on down, we're waiting here
Hold your head up high

Don't you be jumping out, don't you be jumping out, your window
Don't you be jumping out, don't you be jumping out, your window
Don't you be jumping out, don't you be jumping out, your window
Don't you be jumping out, don't you be jumping out, your window

If you're wanting to go, take me with you
Please, please come home
Please, please come home
Please, please come home
Please, please come home
