

I Feel Like Loving You Again

John Conlee

Your love is like a gentle breeze
That quickly turns into a storm
Your love can bring me to my knees
And I'm so helpless when I'm blown into your arms

And I feel like loving you again
I should be over you but I'm not sure I am
If anyone can turn my world around, you know you can
And I feel like loving
I feel like loving
I feel like loving you again

Just like an old familiar song
That keeps on playing in my head
It's always there like it belongs
Guess I'm still hung up on the sweet things that you've said

And I feel like loving you again
I should be over you but I'm not sure I am
If anyone can turn my world around, you know you can
And I feel like loving
I feel like loving
I feel like loving you again

Loving you again
