

Let Your Love Fall Back On Me

John Conlee

I hear you've put your happiness
In the hands of someone new
And that's alright I guess
I want the best for you

But if anything goes wrong
If your plan should fall apart
If you should stumble and fall
Let your love fall back on me

If your love not being used
If your happiness falls through
If your life's not what it should be
Let your love fall back on me

If all I hear is true
There'll soon be wedding bells
I guess you've set the date
I guess I wish you well

If you find the road you're on
Hard to travel anyway at all
If you should stumble and fall
Let your love fall back on me

If your love not being used
If your happiness falls through
If your life's not what it should be
Let your love fall back on me

If your love not being used
If your happiness falls through
If your life's not what it should be
Let your love fall back on me
