Hey There, Mr. Lonely Heart

John Denver

Hey there, Mr. Lonely Heart, if you could find the time I would like to sit and talk, to see if we could find The answer to the mystery of love's most precious seed Is it in a touch or in a kiss or simply in the need

Or is it really love itself that always wants to give The heart and soul of all of us and everything that lives

Hey there, Mr. Cold, Cold Heart, I know I could be wrong To think that life could be so sweet and love could be so stron g As to gather everyone of us, like one big family

To share with one another all we have and all we see

It's true the deepest part of us is everywhere the same And that the only differences are really just the names

We can join the children's song and show them that we care Let them know we're on their side, no matter when or where We can free their hearts from fear and hunger reconcile We can give a child a chance and give a child a smile

True love is still the answer, and we are still the way The gift is in the giving, and in living what we say

And if you have a lonely heart, this song is just for you To ask for all that you can give and all that you can do Remember that the mystery of love's most precious seed

Is in the heart of all of us, true love is all we need It's in the heart of all of us, true love is all we need Within the heart of all of us, true love is all we need

Within the heart of all of us, true love is all we need Within the heart of all of us, true love is all we need Within the heart of all of us, true love is all we need Within the heart of all of us, true love is all we need
