

Everytime You Cry

John Farnham

Never before
Have I seen you look so blue
Can't find a cure
And nothing comforts you
The light at the end of the tunnel
Doesn't shine at the end of the day

Everytime you cry
Save up all your tears
I will be your rainbow
When they disappear
Wash away the pain
'Til you smile again
I will be the laughter in your eyes
Everytime you cry
Everytime you cry
Time has a way
Of wounding what has healed
What can I say
I know just how you feel
Your soul is dark and troubled
Like a river running wild

(Repeat Chorus)
Well you know
That's what I'm here, for
And I will give you
When you need, more

There'll be no hesitation
I will reap no reward
(Repeat Chorus till fade)
