

Love Chooses You

John Farnham

Sometimes with love it's wise to be afraid
Sometimes with love you're a fool to play it safe
Sometimes with love you're destined for the blues
Sometimes with love no one else will do

Love is a liar, sometimes it's a beast
It can get so hungry alone looking for a soul to eat
If it gets its claws on you, well you know you're screwed
You don't choose love, love chooses you

Sometimes with me baby I think I'm in control
Just when I think I've got it down love laughs at me and lets me know
I don't have a chance, not a snowball chance in hell
Ain't no point in standing when I already fell
Love is a liar, sometimes it's a beast
It can get so hungry alone looking for a soul to eat
If it gets its claws on you, well you know you're screwed
You don't choose love, love chooses you

When I saw you I could not believe my eyes
What a beautiful sight to see, woe is me love brought you back here to make me weak
On that it can rely
'Cause it knows, yes it knows, yes it knows the way to win
Love is a liar, sometimes it's a beast
It can get so hungry alone looking for a soul to eat
If it gets its claws on you, well you know you're screwed
You don't choose love, love chooses you
