

Echoes

John Floreani

My heels on the floor boards echo through the house
It's never looked so empty
I can't believe we're leaving again
When we just made a home here
It's never been easy for us
We never had much of anything
But the thought of you in nothing but my shirt
It makes me whole again, whole again

I can feel you in the walls, oh I, I
I can feel you in the walls, oh, I, I

One day I'll give you a life that you can be proud of Help me live in the light
I wanna see the world like you do, like you do

I can feel you in the walls, oh, I, I
I can feel you in the walls, oh, I, I

I can feel you in the walls, oh, I, I
I can feel you in the walls, oh, I, I
