

Repent

John Floreani

Step by thumping step
Through the rain to find my man
If you hurt my baby girl
You'll never see the sun again
And I saw him in the streetlights standing there
Laughing about what he'd done with all his friends
So I need a break out of my head
And I hit that motherfucker as hard as I can
I could smell the blood coming from his head
His head hit the ground with a deafening sound
And I thought he was dead

You lay with me while I lie awake at night
Cursing at these hands for what they've done to my eyes
You lay with me while I lie awake at night
Cursing at these hands for what they've done to my eyes

I keep this faith in a place that I've kept clear
Reserved for all the frightened faces over all the years
If I had my tongue again, I would do the same
I live that moment every night to cleanse myself with the pain

You lay with me while I lie awake at night
Cursing at these hands for what they've done to my eyes
You lay with me while I lie awake at night
Cursing at these hands for what they've done to my eyes

You lay with me while I lie awake at night
Cursing at these hands for what they've done to my eyes
You lay with me while I lie awake at night
Cursing at these hands for what they've done to my eyes
