

Someone

John Foxx

Someone who walks with you
Shines a light in everything you do
That someone

Someone you know from sleep
Seasons pass but some things never change
Like someone

Someone whose voice comes in from summer rooms
Who stands beside you
When you least expect them to
That someone

Well I don't need to know, don't have to say
We'll go on living in the separate way
Oh, no need to tell, no need to explain
I'm so glad that it happened this way

And it's alright to walk with you
And it's O.K. to feel that way
And I feel that way

When a voice comes into mine
Saying things I almost recognise
That's someone

Strange how moments last so long
Always with you long after they've gone
Like someone
That someone

Someone whose voice comes in from summer rooms
Who stands beside you when you least expect them to
That someone

Ah, that someone.