

Any more

John Holt

Now darling i've proved i really love you
And i've always been real true
But i can't believe you anymore

You promised me that you'd always love me
That you'll love me till the end
But i can't trust you anymore

All of my life I've been mistreated
But I wont be blue no more i have found another lover
So it's best, dear, that I let you go

But darling, this i must tell you
As i walk, dear, from your door
You'll never be worried anymore

But darling, this i must tell you
As i walk, dear , from your door
You'll never be worried anymore
