

Think Twice Before You Go

John Lee Hooker

Think twice before you go, baby, this will be the end
Think twice before you go, baby, this will be the end
You done leave me one time, baby you'll leave again
Dig in and suffer with me, an' I know you paid your dues
Dig in and suffer with me baby, an' I know you paid your dues
You done leave me when I need you, then I know you stand accuse d
Doing the man who loves you wrong
Breaking the heart you should be ruling
Doing the man who loves you wrong
I go for a lot of things, but you're a little too strong
Think twice before you go, baby this will be the end
Think twice before you go, baby this will be the end
You done leave me one time, baby, you'll leave again
