

Looking At Tomorrow

John Mayall

Feel like a child
Be one of them, wild
Anything you want me to do
I will surely do for you
And only you

Looking at tomorrow
No one else shall know you like I do

Have you
My wishes are true
Living for each other
Tryin' to understand
Each other' minds
We can learn

Looking at tomorrow
We'll make a new horizon

I feel the sun
Body's now all warm
Locked in your arms
Senses floating upwards into dreams
Far away

Looking at tomorrow
How could life be fuller than today?

You are brave
I'll be your slave
Passion in the body
Building like it never did before

Looking at tomorrow
No one else will ever lead you home
