

Same Time Last Year

John Mayer

you know those days before i met you well good cause i don't either it's almost like they were meant to make the whole thing sweeter You think i'm just a boy who's consumed by all his fears the fact that you should have seen me
same time last year
same time last year
oh the same time last year living fifteen over shortly over the nick of time i'm sad like a boy but I smile like a man its the best way that I never understand

I wish I would have made it I hate the view from here I didn't think I saw my wife that summer that same time last year
