

Ain't Been There Yet

John Morgan

I thought I'd just hop in the truck and drive
See if I can find myself some way
I wouldn't be thinkin' 'bout you
'Tween Memphis and Little Rock
I pulled into some little late night spot
Had a beer and a shot
Thought it might shake you loose

Tryna outrun a memory
In a place that you won't be
Yeah, and you're thinkin' here I might
But it ain't gonna happen tonight

There's gotta be somewhere I could go
I've been been back and forth, down to Mexico
Hit Colorado and some cowboy towns
Way up high where the sun goes down
In a gulf coast hideaway
Where the wind just blows, it don't say your name
Where I can just go to forget
Oh, wherever it is, I ain't been there yet
Oh, I ain't been there yet
Oh, no

Well they say Montana's the place to be
Idaho's got a lot to see
But I know you never did like the cold
Guess it's 'bout time for me to hit the road

Tryna outrun a memory
In a place that you won't be
Yeah, but the missin' you's just too strong
Yeah, it just keeps hangin' on

There's gotta be somewhere I could go
I've been been back and forth, down to Mexico
Hit Colorado and some cowboy towns
Way up high where the sun goes down
In a gulf coast hideaway
Where the wind just blows, it don't say your name
Where I can just go to forget
Oh, wherever it is, I ain't been there yet, oh, yeah
No, I ain't been there yet
Oh

Where there's nothing to remind me
Anywhere you won't find me
Where I can put it all behind me
Yeah, baby there's gotta be

Somewhere I could go
I've been been back and forth, down to Mexico
Hit Colorado and some cowboy towns
Way up high where the sun goes down
In a gulf coast hideaway
Where the wind just blows, it don't say your name
Where I can just go to forget

Oh, wherever it is, I ain't been there yet
Oh, oh-oh, oh, I ain't been there yet
Girl, I ain't been there yet

Mmm

(I ain't been there yet)

(No, I ain't been there yet)

(Mmm, oh, oh, oh)

(I ain't been there yet)
