

Without You / Nothing is Over

John Nolan

I'd be lost without you
Desperate, confused
Talking with nothing to say
Begging for some kind of truth

Without you
What would I do without you?

I'd be strange without you
Alone in my room
A cellophane insomniac
Staring at the silver moon

Without you
What would I do without you?
Without you
What would I do without you?

Without you
What would I do without you?
Without you
What would I do without you?

Nothing is over until we decide it is
Nothing is over until we decide it is
Nothing is over until we decide it is
Nothing is over until we decide it is
